WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section rain tonight; clearing and colder Saturday; fresh southerly winds, becoming westerly.

Death of an Old Resident.

Mr. Samuel N. Garwood, one of the oldest residents of this city, died at his home on King street at an early hour this morning. The deceased for several weeks past had been critically ill from organic troubles incident to advanced age. Mr. Garwood was born in Medford, Burlington county, N. J., October 11, 1820. He moved to this State in 1849, and purchased the Deep Hole farm in Fairfax county, where he lived for several years. He later came to this city, where he had lived ever since. He with the late J. A. Stoutenburgh at one time conducted the grocery and produce business at the southeast corner of King and Columbus streets, and subsequently was awarded the contract for carrying the mail from the Orange and Alexandria (now Southern) Railway depot to Washington, and was engaged in that occupation when the civil war commenced. He also owned a line of stages running from Leesburg to Winchester. He was sheriff of the city under the Peirpoint government and was succeeded by the late Capt. James M. Stuart at the close of the war. He also filled the office of Deputy U. S. Marshal. For the last 15 or 20 years he had been the manager of the Mahoneyville Distillery, near this city. In past years he was a prominent member of the Masonic orders, being a member of Andrew Jackson Lodge and a charter member of Old Dominion Commandery, K. T. He was known to most citizens and generally esteemed. He was a man of the strictest integrity, and kept all of his faculties to the last moment. During his long life he in an unostentatious manner performed many kind acts, especially when in official position, which few save the deceased and the beneficiaries were aware of. Mr. Garwood is survived by three daughters—Mrs. Landsdale, of Washington, Mrs. O'Keefe, of Richmond, and Miss Garwood of this city.

The River.

The past forty-eight hours have in a measure raised the ice embargo, and this morning witnessed materially changed conditions. The surface of the river was again on the move, the bosom of the stream carrying myriads of pieces of broken ice of all sizes and shapes up and down with the tide. There was life also in the skies. The heavens were alive with fragmentary clouds which were flying toward the north, being driven in that direction by a stiff southerly wind, while a fog which extended over the river was also being wafted by the breeze making a picture suggestive of fumes from smoking line. Apart from fogs of ice in the bends of the river, there is no material obstruction to navigation by screw steamer, and this class of boats and tugboats experience no difficulty in going up or down the river. The steamer Norfolk arrived this morning about an hour late, caused by the fog. She reports the channel of the river clear as far up as Indian Head. The steamer Estelle Randall, which has recently been laid up by the freeze, made a trip down the river today. A number of oyster boats are frozen up in the saltwater rivers and creeks, and tugboats are dispatched to tow them to this city and Washington.

The Thaw.

The mercury in the thermometer at six o'clock this morning stood at 46°, 40 degrees higher than it was Tuesday morning. The mild conditions of yesterday brought on a thaw and gutters previously ice-bound were once more emitting gurgling sounds, while the roaring of sewers was heard. The streets were in an exceedingly untidy condition. The sidewalks in many parts of the city were covered with water as the ice which had so long veneered them gave way under the mellow sunshine, while some intersections were rendered almost impassable save to persons wearing rubber boots. Cloudy conditions followed at night and there were several showers. The temperature this morning was mild with threatening skies, and a stiff southern breeze. Shortly after noon rain began to fall and most of the ice remaining in the streets was obliterated.

Don't Worry.

This is easier said than done, yet it may be of some help to consider the matter. If the cause is something over which you have no control it is obvious that worrying will not help the matter in the least. On the other hand, if with your control you have only to act. When you have a cold and fear an attack of pneumonia, buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it judiciously and all cause for worry as it is used. For sale by Richard Gibson.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Miss Mary Brown fell on the ice in the alley adjoining her residence on Royal street yesterday and broke her arm.

The mercury at 3 o'clock this evening registered 60°, while a warm rain was falling.

Mount Vernon Council, Daughters of America, will meet tonight.

Police Court.

There were no cases for trial in the Police Court this morning. Two cases, both misdemeanors, had been set for trial, but the parties and witnesses could not be summoned in time for trial today. The police who were on duty last night report the city as having been quiet. Ten lodgers were at the station house.

Birthday Party.

Miss Minnie Zimmerman daughter of Mr. Charles H. Zimmerman, celebrated her 13th birthday last night by giving a party to a number of her young friends. During the evening games were indulged in while music enlivened the scene. All present spent a delightful evening.

Red Men.

Oseola Tribe, No. 1, I. O. R. M., held a regular meeting at their wigwam last night. An invitation from the 22nd of February celebration committee was enthusiastically received, and it was unanimously decided to take part in the parade of that date and invite the various tribes of Washington to unite with Oseola Tribe in making an imposing and creditable display. The Great Sachem of the District of Columbia, John E. Payne, was unexpectedly present at the meeting and promised to have the chiefs and braves of his territory to take an active interest in the 22nd of February parade. Oseola Tribe is rapidly recovering its wonted prosperity. Initiations are frequent and applications for membership are received at nearly every meeting. The friends of the organization will rejoice to hear of the vigor it is displaying in its serene and yellow leaf.

Union Street.

Union street was in a bedragged condition today, as is always the case of late during inclement weather. On certain portions there are practically no sidewalks, and mud in places is over the board walks or something approaching a sidewalk should be constructed from Princess street to Fishtown before the wharf is rented by the city this year. There are other places also north of King street in the shape of neglected sidewalks which have long needed attention. On the west side of Union street, between Duke and Wolfe, there is a virtually no sidewalk, nor has there been for many years.

Rev. H. B. Lee, Jr. Ordained.

This morning at Christ Church, Charlottesville, Rev. H. B. Lee, Jr., was ordained a priest by Rt. Rev. R. A. Gibson. Rev. Nelson P. Dame, of Winchester, preached the ordination sermon. The candidate was presented by his father, Rev. H. B. Lee, rector of Christ Church, Charlottesville. Mr. Lee is at present officiating as minister in charge of the Episcopal Churches at Fairfax and Vienna. After his ordination to the priesthood he will become rector of these churches.

Fall of a Chimney.

The brick chimney at the Globe Flour Mill, on Union street, between Queen and Princess, collapsed this morning. Part of the boiler room was demolished and an adjoining shed injured. No one was hurt. An insecure foundation caused the fall of the chimney, which was about 50 feet high. Mr. P. F. Gorman will construct an iron stack to take the place of the chimney.

Personal.

Mrs. C. F. Shepherd, who has been ill at her home at "Colross," is improving. Chief Webster of the police force, who was seriously hurt by falling on the ice about two weeks ago, is out again.

Mrs. Paul Turner gave a charming luncheon at her residence, 1706 St. Paul street, Baltimore, yesterday, in honor of her guest, Miss Jessie Carter, of Fairfax county, and of Mrs. J. M. Machen, of Alexandria, who succeeded Senator Donohoe, will have to fill the place of one of the most universally esteemed members of the Senate, a man notable for his gentleness and his kindness and his high character. Mr. Machen has already made many friends and promises to prove a worthy successor. (Richmond Times-Dispatch.)

RUSSIA AND JAPAN.

The delay in Russia's reply to Japan is reported to be the opposition in government circles to making concessions which, while acceptable to Japan, would be a sacrifice of Russia's pride.

Advices from Tokyo state that the government awaits a formal response by Russia to its last note and that the mere acceptance of Japan's proposals will not suffice.

Baron Hayashi, Japanese minister to England, says Japan would rather fight than forego an actual treaty admission by Russia of China's sovereignty over Manchuria.

The Japanese are considering an elaborate plan for coast defense, and they are also watching the spread of disorder in Korea.

Seven out of 10 ministers of the Korean Cabinet have resigned and serious insurrection is threatened in the southern provinces because of official oppression.

The International Peace Commission, an adjunct of The Hague arbitration tribunal, has sent a note to the powers asking for the adoption of a plan for settlement of the Russo-Japanese trouble. The Washington authorities are reported to have considered the matter.

HAS BEEN COLDER.

Frostbitten Americans, who recently rubbed their stinging ears and beat together their numbed fingers, complain bitterly that this winter is almost intolerable. Could their sufferings be alleviated by calling to mind that the Thames in England in 1063, and again in 1740, was frozen over for many weeks so solidly that fairs were held upon it. In 1234, so it is said, parts of the Mediterranean Sea were crossed on ice. We all bear in mind the horrors of the retreat from Moscow of Napoleon's grand army, and it should not be forgotten that Boston harbor was sealed by the cold in 1844, and navigation was suspended entirely. Let us take heart, then, and, as we buffet our breaths, may cheer one another with the comforting thought that even colder winters than this have been known in past centuries. —[N. Y. Tribune.]

MILL STARTS UP AN "OPEN SHOP."

—The Parkersburg, W. V., Iron and Steel Company, whose plant has been idle since the first of the year because the 500 employees who are members of the Amalgamated Association refused to work at the proposed reduction from the scale, started up yesterday as an "open shop" and with men from Pittsburg to take the places of the old employees. The old employees lined up around the mill and tried to keep the new men from working but failed.

R. S. Boshier, the late Richmond tobacco manufacturer, left an estate valued at more than $1,000,000.

TRAGEDY IN GRAYSON.

W. B. Brown, of Fries, Grayson county, his son and two daughters are dead and his wife is dangerously ill because of the indulgence of the husband and father in strong drink, it is asserted. His eldest daughter was ill with fever and Brown went to procure liquor for her, it is said, but was unable to resist drinking it himself. The first tragedy occurred when, wildly intoxicated, Brown, it is alleged, attacked his son with a knife. The tragedy drew his wife daughter insane and she soon died. Her sister lived but a little longer. Then Brown and his wife were taken ill and the former died. Mrs. Brown now lies at the point of death.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The Produce Exchange Banking Company made an assignment today, in Cleveland, O. The cause of the assignment was the defalcation of Cashier George Rose, amounting to $70,000.

A fortune of $500,000 that has hunted 20 years old Lewis Fischer over a year, found him yesterday as he emerged from the riveting room of the Chicago Shipbuilding Company. Today he will start for Pittsburgh to claim it. The money was left by his father, who died a year ago, without knowing where his son was.

A fishing party consisting of four young men went down the bay, at Tampa, Fla., Saturday night, and as no tidings have as yet been received from them, great anxiety is felt for their safety, owing to the stormy weather that has prevailed since their departure.

The stage from Sturgeon Bay, due at Menominee, Wis., Wednesday, has failed to arrive and it is believed to have been lost in the fierce blizzard that is raging. Fear is also felt for hundreds of fishermen on the ice in the bay.

The rise in securities on the London stock exchange has been maintained on the strength of increasing optimism regarding the far East.
